Greater Audio - Visual, Library Aids Possible

(A TOWNSMAN Newsfeature)

Some details of the 100% federally funded Learning Resource Center proposed for location at the East Junior High school were spelled out to THE TOWNSMAN by East Junior High principal Dorothy Partridge and by Robert Bachmann, Audio Visual Department head for the two junior high schools and all elementary schools.

The nearly $5 million project would expand the schools audio-visual and library facilities at East, where audio-visual got its start in Andover schools under Bachmann in 1958. The proposed grant also would provide funds for some staffing of the complex beyond school hours as a community AV resource, production center and media library, according to Superintendent of Schools Edward I. Erickson.

H.G. Johnson Associates, educational consultants who are making out project specifications, have informed Town Manager Bowen, Superintendent of Schools Edward I. Erickson and Mrs. Partridge that the federal authorities involved have already given verbal approval to the Andover project.

According to Mrs. Partridge and Bachmann, the federal funds would not only equip the AV center but build an addition to the school library, which is still under standard size.

Bachmann explained that every type of learning media would be cross-referenced, so that under Christopher Columbus, for example, not only the appropriate books and articles in Mrs. Jacobsen's library would be listed, but also any motion pictures, slide tapes, etc. on the subject which are stored in the climate-controlled media library in the AV center on the lower floor of the school.

The AV center itself would have a new production room, plus professional projectors and other equipment capable of video tape recording, both original and off-air, audio tapes, slide tapes, 16mm motion pictures, original productions of 8mm sound motion pictures, original single-concept 8mm film loops and over-head transparencies.

The AV center has worked in all these media, sometimes with borrowed equipment, and within the limitations of present facilities, according to Bachmann. He said that the demand has far outstripped their ability to supply. There are people in the schools, and in the town too, interested in creative educational approaches who are practically lined up waiting for facilities like this to be available.

"It would consolidate what all these groups are trying to do. It would tie in with the Memorial Hall Library, acting as a supplementary media library, serving educators in the area.

The Season's Here

GOAL LINE AIM. Quarterback Don Pattullo, a junior, shows the form he hopes will carry the Andover High Golden Warriors toward a championship season as he prepared for the season opener at the new Andover High football field Saturday afternoon. Coach Dick Collins sees Saturday's opponent as one of the toughest of the season for the home club and rests high hopes on the efforts of his veteran quarterback. (Cole)

It Will Be More Than Just A Kickoff Saturday

It will literally be a whole new ball game when Andover High school opens its football season Saturday at 1:30 p.m. against Wilmington.

The Golden Warriors will be taking to the field in their new surroundings. A new locker room, new field, new bleachers, all are ready for the opening kickoff. The facilities are located near the new Senior High school off Shawsheen Rd.

Head Coach Dick Collins sees the season opener as a tough game, "probably one of the toughest of the season," with Wilmington having a veteran club. The visitors were league champions a year ago

Doherty Says We Have To Build

(A TOWNSMAN Newsfeature)

School Committeeman William A. Doherty, who is opposed to the West school addition, primarily because of its location and also as an addition to the present Beacon Street facility, has issued a statement pointing out his feelings on the matter.

Doherty, long an advocate of additional school sites for the town, forecasts a need for a number of additional elementary schools in the near future, along with additional junior high schools and an almost immediate need for a senior high school once the present building has its contemplated additions finished.

The veteran school committeeman who has served for over 35 years on the board, feels that smaller schools are needed. He notes that within a short span of time, the school population could reach the 17,000 level.

Doherty had requested that his thoughts be inserted in the issue of "Your Schools," which will be distributed to voters prior to the special town meeting on Oct. 7.

For A West School - It Takes Cash

The so-called West school addition could cost about $35 per square foot to construct, according to figures compiled by Town Manager Richard J. Bowen this week.

Low bidder on the project is D.G. Guschev Company, Inc., with a proposal of $1,924,000. The town meeting on Monday, Oct. 7, will be asked to appropriate $2,250,000 to bring about the facility and have it ready for occupancy in September, 1970.

The building is actually a complete new school, but the additional 24 classrooms to be provided to relieve overcrowding in the West section of town, will be attached to the present building on Beacon St.

The total project cost is $2,330,000, which takes into consideration the architectural fees previously appropriated.

The $2,250,000 to be requested at the town meeting, will include the $1,924,000 for the general contract, $60,000 for architectural fees, $175,000 for equipment and $91,000 for contingencies.

Bowen, in discussing the project cost, said he did not know why costs of construction were high and certainly they are no higher in Andover than anywhere else.

"This is a simple school building with no frills. It is simple in design and there is no more space provided than is absolutely needed and requested by the school department. Yet the project cost is

"I don't like the price any more than anyone else, but if that's what it costs to build this school, then that is what we will have to pay." Bowen concluded.

The new structure will be designed to accommodate the progressive education concept of the school department, a plan which will be initiated with the opening of the Bancroft school.

Frank Crimp, who designed the Sanborn school, is the architect for the proposed addition.

James J. St. Germain is chairman of the building committee which has been planning the addition and working with the architect.

formation courses have been conducted in the limited facilities of the present seminary building. Although planned and built by the Franciscan Fathers of the province of the Immaculate Conception, who operate St. Francis Seminary, the new headquarters have been approved by the archdiocese of Boston and has been designated as the official Catechetical Center for the Merrimack Valley Area.

The seminary at one time sought assistance from the town in supplying water to the new building. The request was later withdrawn and the seminary has now made arrangements with the neighboring town of Tewksbury to meet the needs for water.

The building complex will include, a chapel that will seat 200 worshippers, an auditorium for 700, a cafeteria to accommodate more than 500 at a time, five large lecture halls for meeting rooms, ten small conference rooms, several offices, weekend accommodations for 25 adults and 50 teenagers. A bookstore, living quarters for four staff members, a youth recreation area and a Friars print shop.

Heading the staff as director will be Rev. Matthias Pastore, OFM, assisted by one other Franciscan Priest and two lay brothers. Several diocesan priests and religious brothers and sisters, as well as lay instructors will round out the staff.

Ground was broken in the spring of 1967, with the building being ready for occupancy approximately this Nov. 1. The architect is Brother Cajetan J.B. Baumann, OFM, FAIA. The contractor for the building is George Fichera, Inc., Lawrence, using local sub-contractors.

over four thousand "fair share" employees witnessing the impressive half hour program.

The Andover High School Band, along with a banjo band, the Raytheon - Andover hospitality girls, and this year's United Fund girl, ignited the United Fund Spirit with the "Vote for Happiness" theme song.

Raytheon - Andover's 1968 United Fund chairman, Robert King, urged the employees to contribute to the Fund and asked for consideration of the many ways in which the United Fund touches the hearts of Americans. He concluded his remarks by saying "Let us build a community that cares."

Robert Gormley, Raytheon Company's International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers United Fund chairman and Harold Coxall, Raytheon Company's International Association of Machinists United Fund chairman, both urged their locals to once again have one hundred per cent participation in the worthwhile fund.

Joseph Glasser, plant manager, was introduced by Mr. King. Mr. Glasser stressed the need for employee participation and told the group that Raytheon - Andover should strive to better last year's contribution of over one hundred and fifty-two thousand dollars.

Mr. Glasser introduced Mr. Charles F. Adams, chairman of the board for Raytheon Company.

Mr. Adams said that he was impressed to speak before the largest gathering of employees he had ever witnessed. He related his past involvements with United Fund and emphasized the need for employees to recognize the cause - not merely the amount contributed.

Mr. Adams concluded: "Let us give our 'fair share' so that Raytheon will serve as a model community in which everybody can live and work."

Mr. Bensley is director of the audio-visual department and the photography section of Phillips Academy. He is noted for his unusual ability in teaching students to appreciate photography as a self expression of art. He is also a lecturer at the Harvard Graduate School of Education and was awarded the "Distinguished Secondary School Teaching Award" from Harvard in 1963.

The meeting will also include "Adventures in Outdoor Color Slides."

The club meets regularly on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month in the meeting room of the Merrimack Valley National Bank, 355 Common St., Lawrence at 8 p.m. Visitors will be welcome.

TEST YOUR GEM I.Q.

Q. CULTURED AND SIMULATED PEARLS ARE THE SAME?

A. False! Cultured pearls are grown inside the oyster much as the rare and very valuable natural pearls. Simulated pearls are completely man-made by dipping glass beads in a fish scale solution. In a fine cultured pearl, the orient and lustre of the nacre coating that nature puts around the nucleus is what makes it so lovely and flattering to the complexion. Stop in and let us show you these differences, and the various qualities of cultured pearls available to you. When you want the best—it pays to see your local AGS jeweler.

Information Please Is Changed

Charles A. Papalia, local New England Telephone Company manager reports:

"Directory Assistance" will on Sept. 28 become the new name for dialing 411 in the communities served by the Lawrence Telephone Directory. It will replace Information as the operating answer phrase, and will be used in the customer directory as the term to describe local and long distance (Information.)

"The new title will help remind people that the Directory Assistance Operator is available to assist the customer with telephone numbers that are not listed in the directory. Directory Assistance is a more accurate description of this service," Papalia said.

This change will apply to the following communities:

In Massachusetts: Andover, Ballardvale, Dracut, Lawrence, Lowell Junction, Methuen, North Andover, and West Andover.

In New Hampshire: Canobie Lake, East Pelham, North Salem, Salem, South Derry, South Salem and Windham. Some customers in Atkinson, and Derry are also included.

These communities will be listed in the new Lawrence telephone directory scheduled for delivery by Sept. 24.

Mr. Papalia said, "We hope the use of Directory Assistance will help reduce the increasing volume of questions directed at information operators. These include such requests as cooking instructions, weather reports, and street direction."

The MBTA

There seems to be a growing possibility that citizens of Andover in particular and those in the Greater Lawrence area in general, must soon face reality as far as public transportation is concerned.

While the thought is distasteful, it almost seems that the communities are eventually going to become infected by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority, thus a tax burden to keep the deficit-ridden line running.

This thought occurred this week when the selectmen authorized the town manager to enter into a contract with the MBTA to continue bus service through Dec. 31.

The action was necessary due to the sudden walkout of Michaud Bus lines which had promised to take over the Eastern Massachusetts Railway bus lines now run by MBTA. Michaud was due to take over the operation this week. The firm had informed local officials that new buses would be provided and service maintained on an equal or better basis than Eastern Mass. had provided.

Last Thursday, the Michaud firm said it would not pick up the operation, leaving local officials with but one decision, if public transportation was to be maintained — resort to the MBTA and pay the freight.

Now, there is a local company interested in offering the bus service. Frank W. Trombly feels he can provide the service now offered by MBTA and not place an additional burden on the taxpayers.

This is not an easy task. Whether Mr. Trombly or any other private carrier attempts to assume the service, there are a number of problems to overcome before any one other than the MBTA will run a bus over local streets.

Apparently there will be problems with the union representing the bus drivers. The MBTA drivers want anyone running a bus over the local lines to receive the same compensation and benefits as they receive. There is the possibility that non-union drivers would be prevented from operating vehicles.

Salaries paid to MBTA employees are high and more than likely could not be met by small private carriers.

Permission to operate in Boston must be obtained from the Boston City Council and is not considered to be an easy matter. This sheds some light on the political atmosphere of public transportation.

Somewhere there is provision that in order to take over the Boston run of the schedule, permission must be obtained from MBTA to operate over their routes. This has to be negotiated with MBTA officials and no doubt payment made to the utility.

All of which looks like operation locally by a private carrier is a difficult task, with the only solution — apparently to subscribe to the MBTA service.

This is not a welcome thought. For the three months continuation of the service, Andover will pay MBTA $11,900. Multiplied over a full year basis, the cost to maintain public transportation — both buses and trains — will be an exorbitant amount to a community such as Andover, already faced with spiraling municipal costs.

If the only solution is the MBTA, then Andover and all local communities involved should insist on —

A Voice

— In how the MBTA operates.

For years this operation has annually run on an ever-increasing deficit.

It seems rather ridiculous that if Andover should be forced to subscribe to this service, that it should not only pay for its share of the deficit, but have added to it, the loss experienced from say the city of Brockton, or Taunton or other points served by the line.

Melrose now pays something like $2 or $3 of its tax rate to support the MBTA.

Somehow it just doesn't make sense that an operation should run constantly in debt. We would be out of business quite quickly if our annual revenue did not at least meet our expenses.

The MBTA, however, runs merrily on year after year, increasing its deficit and passing the cost on to the already overburdened taxpayer.

If some of the communities to the north of Boston, forced to accept the MBTA service, were allowed to have a hand in the operation, maybe there would be some saving results.

People in this portion of the state have been known for good old-fashioned Yankee thrift and maybe that is exactly what the sprawling transportation facility needs.

The local communities here must have a watchful eye over the MBTA, because there is a general feeling the utility doesn't really much care about the Greater Lawrence run, their main interest lying in the more lucrative South Shore service.

Whatever the case, we must be attentive to the transportation problem. Hopefully a private carrier will assume the service, but we fear that MBTA will be the ultimate answer, one which unfortunately will affect our pocket-book.

A Loss

We mourn the untimely death of one of our popular local merchants, Martin Fitzgerald, who was fatally injured in a fall last week.

Better known as "Buster," he was a popular local merchant, having run a grocery store on Main St. for over 20 years.

Mr. Fitzgerald lent the personal touch to shopping for the dinner table. He was always pleasant and a stop at his shop was always a friendly experience.

That he will be missed is an understatement. His popularity was attested by the anonymous placing of a bouquet of roses on the door of the store the day after he died.

Memorial Hall Library

A Community Calendar for listing local activities has been set up recently on the bulletin board in the outer lobby, stated Ethel Wilson, circulation librarian. This calendar is for the use of patrons who may wish to see just what activities are being planned by local groups throughout the year or who may wish to register the activities of their local group so that others can see what is being planned in the local community. If you wish to use this calendar, simply come to the library and inquire at the main desk.

New Secretary

Upon the retirement of Mrs. Dudley Pitts from the Memorial Hall Library Board of Trustees, the board elected Mrs. William V. N. Washburn as the new secretary for the board. Among the new responsibilities of Mrs. Washburn will be the keeping of the minutes of board meetings and handling general correspondence for the board of trustees.

Painting

Painting and making mosaics for pleasure has become an increasingly popular hobby in recent years, and this stepped up interest has been reflected in the constant popularity of books on painting at the Memorial Hall Library, according to librarian Mrs. Bea Shepherd. Mrs. Shepherd said the library offers a wide range of books on watercolor and oil painting, artist's materials and methods, pencil sketching, art theory and other related subjects.

The beginner can find excellent information, as well as inspiration, in such books as "Brush and Palette" by Mayo Sargman; "The Painting of Pictures," by Arthur Zaidenberg; "Paint Now and Learn Later," by Guy Williams; "Creative Rubbings," by Laye Andrews; "Painting Made Easy," by John Mills; "Making Mosaics," by John Berry, and "Anyone Can Paint," by Arthur Zaidenberg.

Watercolor painting is perhaps the most popular type of painting for amateurs. Among the titles recommended for instruction in this medium are Arthur Guptill's "Watercolor Painting, Step by Step," Jacob Smith's "Watercolor Painting for the Beginner," E. A. Whitney's "Watercolor: The Hows and Whys," Frederic Sweeney's "Painting the American Scene in Watercolor," Rex Brandt's "Watercolor Landscape," Frederic Whitaker's "Whitaker on Watercolor," Theodore Kautzky's "Ways with Watercolor," and Mario Cooper's "Flower Painting in Watercolor."

Those interested in oil painting will find such recent practical manuals as "The Technique of Oil Painting," by Colin Hayes; "Starting to Paint in Oils," by John Raynes; "Oil Painting for the Beginner," by Frederic Taubes, and "Complete Guide to Oil Painting," by Ernest Flene.

For the more advanced artist, there are a number of books which treat specialized phases of painting. Some of these titles are John Mills' "Acrylic Painting," Frederic Taubes' "The Technique of Landscape Painting," Harry Bailing's "Painting Sea and Shore," Moses Soyer's "Painting the Human Figure," Mario Cooper's "Flower Painting in Watercolor," Leonard Brooke's "Painting and Understanding Abstract Art," Helen Hutton's "Mosaic Making," and Leonard Richmond's "Imaginative Techniques in Painting."

Tree Protest Wins Attention

The coast-to-coast deluge of letters protesting the Bureau of Public Roads policy to cut trees within 30 feet of highways has had some effect.

F.C. Turner, director of public roads, has issued a memorandum to all Regional Federal Highway Administrators and Division Engineers amplifying the Bureau's position on highway beautification and safety.

The memorandum states that "Wherever possible large trees or clumps of trees of special historic or scenic value in the right-of-way should be retained in their natural setting. Where such trees are within the recovery area appropriate guardrail should be used."

Mr. Turner wrote in a letter, "A recent canvass of all states indicated that it was neither practical nor reasonable to eliminate all existing trees within this critical area and such is not the intent nor desire of the Bureau of Public Roads. As funds become available, the program for the erection of guardrail in the medians and at the roadside for the protection of the out-of-control motorist will be accelerated. Trees will be removed only where they present a hazard and it is found to be impractical to install guardrail."

According to Daniel S. Horgan, Chief Engineer of the Massachusetts Department of Public Works, a 30-foot clear right-of-way will be maintained on all new construction, as it has been on the nationwide Interstate Highway System, and on highways being completely redesigned. (It was recently announced that the 6-mile stretch scheduled for rebuilding on the mid-Cape highway at Cape Cod would be clear of trees and other obstacles for a distance of 30 feet from the road.)

What Our Readers Say-

To the Editor:

Every community is blessed with certain citizens who unconsciously make it a better, more friendly place for their being a part of it. Andover is well favored in this respect. But we've suffered an irreplaceable loss in the death of "Buster" Fitzgerald, who made his Evergood store a haven of cheer and good will. Those of us who had the good fortune to know him — and consequently respect him — will miss him; and we can consider ourselves lucky for the privilege of even casual acquaintance. The world could do with a lot more "Buster" Fitzgeralds.

As for his own club, Collins feels he should have "a respectable sea-

"We looked fairly good in pre-pleased with the progress. Don

"He's looked real good in scrimthe school has ever had," Collins said.

Collins pointed out that the league appears to be well balanced this year and some of the clubs have looked very strong. Among the possible surprise clubs are Tewksbury and Dracut, he said, noting that Chelmsford is tradi-

Mrs. James T. Reid

Reid - Puglisi

In an August 18 wedding in St. Augustine's church, Miss Nancy Ann Puglisi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Puglisi, 109 Chestnut St., became the bride of James Thomas Reid, son of Mr. James F. Reid and the late Margaret Reid, of Lawrence.

Very Rev. Joseph L. Shannon, O.S.A., pastor of St. Lawrence's parish, Lawrence, officiated at the ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

The former Miss Puglisi wore a Bianchi skimmer gown of pure silk with silk-faced satin center panel, beaded with tiny crystals and pearls. Her cathedral train of imported illusion was attached to a high open crown of silk-faced satin, also beaded with tiny pearls. She carried a cascade of phlox, stephanotis, croton and dracena leaves.

Her matron of honor and bridesmaids wore identical sleeveless skimmer gowns of apple green summer peau de sole with matching high open crowns and floor length veils, matching shoes and white gloves. They carried long-stemmed arm bouquets of birds of paradise. Mrs. Alfred Cavallaro of Andover was matron of honor, and serving as bridesmaids were Miss Mary Beth Reid of Lawrence, Mrs. Thomas Burbridge of Stoughton, Miss Maureen Carroll of Norton and Miss Kathleen Linnehan of New York City.

Flower girls were the Misses Nancy and Maria Cavallaro, of Andover, while Kenneth Turner of Lawrence was ringbearer. The girls wore silk organza long-sleeved dresses trimmed with white lace. Best man for Mr. Reid was Alphonse Belavitch of Salem, N.H., while Joseph Doyle of Salem, N.H., Stanley Augovich of Methuen and Joseph Smith and Gerald Guertin of Lawrence served as ushers.

The mother of the bride received her guests following the ceremony at the Bradford Country Club, wearing an ice blue silk organza brocade sheath with a matching picture hat trimmed with flowers and matching accessories.

The couple left for a wedding trip to San Juan, Puerto Rico, after which they will make their home at 29 Boehm St., Lawrence.

Mrs. Reid is a graduate of St. Mary's High school, and Bridgewater State College and holds a master's degree from Salem State College. She is a grade 2 teacher in Boxford.

Mr. Reid, a graduate of Central Catholic High school and Northern Essex Community College is completing his studies at Suffolk University.

Lawrence
Honored
By Group

Clifford A. Lawrence, of Clark Rd., who has worked for some years with deaf persons, and is presently director of Deafness Resources Institute, was recently installed as an honorary member of the New England Gallaudet Association of the Deaf.

At their biennial meeting in the Mt. Washington hotel, Bretton Woods, N.H., the officers and members voted to extend this honor to Mr. Lawrence. Only nine other hearing persons have been so honored by this organization during the 115 years since it was founded in 1853.

At its current meeting, Mr. Lawrence acted as interpreter in various situations such as speeches, informal conversation, songs and jokes during the evening entertainment. The American Manual Alphabet and the Language of Signs for Manual Communication is a mode used by many deaf people and one with which Mr. Lawrence has become quite familiar.

Mr. Lawrence plans to conduct classes of instruction in sign communication with the deaf locally as well as in Brookline. Anyone interested is invited to write Mr. Lawrence at 16 Clark Rd. This knowledge will assist teachers, parents of deaf children, social or church workers, physicians, etc., to communicate adequately with deaf persons.

Gourmet Dinner
Opens Season

XI Sigma Chapter of BetaSigma Phi opened their fall season with a festive gourmet dinner held at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Farrell of Strawberry Hill Rd. Fall floral arrangements complemented the attractively set tables. Mrs. Phyllis Roberts, social chairman, assisted by her committee, Mrs. Paula Pagonis, Mrs. Ruth MacDonald and Mrs. Mary Clukey planned the event.

A business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Dorothy Scherer, president, followed and plans for the coming year were formulated. A field trip to Strawberry Banke in Portsmouth, N.H. is planned on Oct. 22. Strawberry Banke has been compared with Historic Williamsburg. Strawberry Banke enjoys the distinction of having the original settlers' homes intact.

A shipwreck party is planned for November.

Plans are underway for a fund-raising benefit for the Heart Fund to be held in February, 1969. A pots and pans party for members will be held Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Griffen to help underwrite Heart Fund Plans. XI Sigma Chapter has actively supported the Heart Fund for several years.

Uniquely-styled program books, designed by Mrs. Joan Lockwood were distributed. The next meeting of the chapter will be held at the home of Mrs. Lockwood in October.

PART OF ACADEMY. The 11-acre Gould Estate at 38 Phillips St., is currently in the process of being acquired by Phillips Academy. The property is across the street from Williams Hall and is assessed for $54,000 according to the town assessors' records. No definite plans for use of the property have been made as yet by academy officials. (Cole)

sion of core facilities. It is an old trick among architects and building committees to point out that "This building can be added on to." It's a selling point. If we were to carry this point to the ridiculous stage we could say that it is possible to add onto the Town Hall or the fire station and make a school building out of it. It certainly would not be academically sound nor economically sound but it could be done. Unfortunately when the public is conditioned to think that a building can be added on to it is rather disconcerting to be told that "Now it should not be done." In the case of the West Elementary school it has already been done and the building is at capacity. To be true there are only two rooms per grade when it would be nicer to have three rooms per grade but it still is at capacity unless we get into building additional core facilities. If we needed only another six to twelve rooms it would make sense. But, our problem is far greater. The school committee and the administration of fifteen years ago concluded that several more buildings would be necessary and that buildings with three rooms per grade would be proper. Why? Following the advice of the educators and through the years up to the present time it was concluded that everything could be done for the children grouping wise with three rooms per grade. We have been told that classes should be kept to 25 children per room and that the total enrollment should be kept down close to 500 children per elementary school.

When the school committee brought up the question of additional housing facilities it was with the thought that six to twelve rooms might be added to West with another building elsewhere in West Andover. It was never the intent of the school committee or the school administration that a large addition like the one under consideration now should be contemplated. However, at a meeting of the joint boards the idea of the large addition got its start. It snow-balled contrary to the original intent of the school committee, the school administration and the State School Building Assistance Commission. Certain individuals on these other boards wanted to prove that, "You can add on to an existing building." The great problem here is that selectmen, managers, finance committee and planning boards all at one time or another get their fingers into the act. Most of these good, honorable, sincere citizens think in terms of the tax dollar, especially today's tax dollar, not the future tax dollar and they also think of school buildings in the light of the ones which they themselves attended. They don't have to operate these school buildings after they are built and they don't realize the multiplicity of problems many of which they themselves may be creating for the school committee and the school administration and even for the children by their insistence to do the wrong thing.

All of these projects are stalled to the point where the school people find themselves in a bind and as a result agree to accepting anything as long as it is something. As a result the Town is now being asked to approve an addition comparable in size to the new Bancroft school, larger than either the Central, South or Sanborn schools and add it onto an existing building. The addition will be more than twice the size of the older structure. As a result we will have a school of 900 capacity when it should be kept down to 500 capacity. The irony of it all is that before another school is built, this one will be greatly overcrowded. It will be the Town's largest elementary building and located in West Andover so that it will take the brunt of the overcrowding. It will be easier to send them there. We will have 1200 children in a 900 capacity school which should be in the 500 range. It is not academically sound. The school committee, the administrators, the State Building Assistance Commission office all know this.

When we consider the economic side of this picture, we find that when we add on to a building there are always a number of changes that have to be made in the old structure. The new structure includes an auditorium, cafeteria and gymnasium. In the present small school, one multipurpose room does it all, not ideal of course but it does the job. It will be retained as a second gymnasium. There will be a complete new kitchen and all of the old equipment will be disposed of. It would serve for some years but it's worth nothing in the market.

All of the children who will be transported will come in school buses. If the building were in their own neighborhood, many of them would walk. Cost of transportation is mounting all the time.

Figure 60 to a bus at $7000 per bus and more as time goes on for years to come. This is not figured in the building cost. It will come out of school department budgets for years to come and if the building enrollment reaches 1200 it will be worse.

The Only reason given for building here is to stop more rapid development in the Cross St. area where the Town owns about 100 acres. Of course there are those who just want to prove that it is possible to add on to an existing building. Some people are of the opinion that the next school must be built at the Cross St. site. This is not true. It should be somewhere in West Andover, not necessarily on Cross St.

For twelve years the school committee has been requesting the selectmen to acquire land sites for future schools, even pinpointing sites in West Andover, in the Bailey, Osgood and Old Abbot districts as well as in other sections of Town, the Carmel Woods area and across the By-Pass. Nothing happens.

Several months ago my colleague William F. King and I were appointed by the chairman of the school committee to a long range program committee. While we are not yet ready to make a report we have been assembling figures. It is interesting to note that the Town is nearly 32 square miles, 23 miles from Boston at the junction of Routes 93 and 495. Nothing is going to stop the Town from growing and it has been estimated that the population could reach 60,000. On the basis of that figure, we have projected a possible school enrollment of 17,000, broken down to 8500 at elementary level, 4300 at junior high level and 4200 at senior high level. It could mean nine more Bancroft schools, three more junior high schools and after the addition goes on the new high school, a complete duplication of the same elsewhere.

There is therefore, a tremendous need for the selectmen to acquire land sites while there is still land available and before the cost goes higher. Our enrollment is up nearly 400 over last year which was up about 400 over the previous year. Like the ostrich, some of our Town officials have been sticking their heads in the sand for years. We're getting more kids with the pill than we had without it. Many school sites have gone to the developers. We buy swamps for birds and snakes but we can't buy sites for schools. If the Town had bought some of these choice areas over the years, just one a year, it would have stopped a lot of developing. The argument works both ways.

Pike School Staff Member Wins Honors

Mr. Nicholas Tgettis, who has joined the staff of the Pike school, was honored during the summer when he was first prize winner in a music competition sponsored by the Brookline Library Music Association. His winning composition, "Trio for Oboe, Clarinet and Bassoon" was awarded a $150 cash prize.

The Salem composer is a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music. In addition to the prize winning composition noted above, Mr. Tgettis has been honored by having four of his original compositions included in August concert of new compositions directed by Dr. Hugo Norden at the Concert Hall on Commonwealth Ave., Boston.

Mr. Tgettis will head up all formal musical activities at the local day school, guiding choral, instrumental and rhythmic musical experiences for about 360 youngsters.

Two Films To Be Shown

Tonight at 8:15 p.m. in the East Junior High Auditorium two films, shown simultaneously, will be presented by the Andover Citizens for Equal Opportunity and the Kerner Report Discussion Group.

"The Tenement" presents, through the impartial eye of the camera, the drab lives and apathy of a Chicago slum dwelling. "Sixteen in Webster Grove" explores the attitude of teen-agers in an affluent society. Materialism, conformity, status and privilege would seem to be their primary goals, with social problems, war and poverty banished from their conscience.

A discussion based on the contrast of these films will follow. It will be led by John Young, from CORE.

Reservations will be available at the door.

Before you buy, apply The "Banker's Test"

Many automobile buyers sign for a financing plan on the first dotted line to come along . . . and then they pay too much . . . too often . . . too long.

Before you sign on the dotted line, let us apply the BANKER'S TEST to your financing plan. If you have a fair deal, we'll tell you . . . and then try to do better. If you are about to get stuck, we can unstuck you.

We can apply the Test in a few minutes at any of our convenient offices. You can't lose.

Is your budget tight again this week?

Help Sanders build neat little electronic systems... become an assembler or inspector and solve your budget problems.

If the good things are just out of your reach because of a tight budget, perhaps you should consider the opportunity Sanders offers you to do more. You can earn a good income for your family even if you have no idea how to assemble electronic systems. You will also meet some interesting new people and learn some useful new abilities.

You can almost set your own hours. We have a 7:30 to 4 shift in both Bedford and Woburn, plus 9 to 2, 4 to 11, and 6:30 to 10:30 shifts in Bedford.

All you need are good eyes, nimble fingers, and a willingness to learn. We can teach you everything else very quickly, and you will be earning while you learn. As you become more expert, your pay will increase.

And all the while, you and your family will be covered by Sanders' excellent benefit programs.

Sanders is a growing place, a place where you could do some growing too.

CALL Miss Phyllis Squibb at 275-0200 to learn how soon you can start. Drop in to see her between 8:30 and 7 Monday through Thursday, until 4 on Friday, or from 9 to 1 on Saturday. You'll find us on Crosby Road at Routes 3 and 62.

TIGHT SQUEEZE. Traffic and parking lines on Lowell St. just out of Shawsheen Square are making for a tight squeeze. The parking lot lines have been painted recently providing for motorists stopping at the business establishments. This week, however, a double solid yellow line was painted on the street and motorists are not supposed to cross the stripes. The two way traffic, however, makes it almost impossible not to be in violation if cars are to pass. The problem is amplified when trucks are on the road. (Cole)

Residents Seek To Halt Raytheon

A group of West Andover residents has requested a temporary restraining order preventing the building inspector from issuing building permits to the Raytheon Co. for its planned development off Lowell St.

A hearing on the petition is scheduled for Sept. 30 in Salem Superior court house.

Residents of the town rezoned the area in July in order to provide for the electronics firm to build manufacturing and office buildings.

The petition contends that the special town meeting vote violates the zoning laws in singling out one lot for preferential treatment.

Residents who brought the suit are Richard H. and Patricia H. Cunningham, 3 Marigold Ln.; Martin H. and Ruth Danzig, 3 Rasmussen Cir.; Philip A. and Doris A. Dargie, 5 Patricia Rd.; Jordan H. and Sheila V. Freedman, 5 Marigold Ln.; John H. and Marian M. Hanley, 384 Lowell St. and Alfred A. and Marian J. Koch, 71 Osgood St.

Selectmen Express Sympathy

The selectmen this week noted, with regret, the loss of two prominent Greater Lawrence men.

Chairman Philip K. Allen noted the accidental death of Martin M. Fitzgerald who operated the Evergood Store on Main St., commenting that the late Mr. Fitzgerald was one of "the beloved figures of Main St.," as he expressed the sympathy of the board to the family.

The board formally adopted a resolution noting the death of North Andover Selectman Fred P. Oakes. In the resolution, the board noted that in the death of Mr. Oakes, the town of Andover has lost a most cooperative and always understanding neighbor and that "we, as selectmen, have lost a solid and always helpful com-patriot." The board also said that "we have lost a cheerful and always friendly companion."

The board extended its sympathy to the family on behalf of the citizens of Andover.

Volunteers Begin Work At Jr. High

The East Junior High added a new dimension to its staff Monday when it welcomed two volunteer aides to assist in the library. Mrs. Robert Fuller, mother of four, the eldest a ninth grader, has recently come to Andover from Maryland. She attended Colby Junior College and has had previous experience as a library helper.

Mrs. Herbert Herron, whose five children are presently in our school system, studied art for three years. She plans to return to college to earn a degree some day, meanwhile she is happy to serve as an aide in the library, the art department, or the sewing room.

East Junior High Principal, Mrs. Dorothy Partridge, believes that a volunteer program furnishes an excellent opportunity for public service to women who want something worthwhile to do for a few hours each week. Not only can they be helpful to present faculty members, but they may eventually be inspired to enter the profession themselves, either as substitutes or regular teachers.

United Giving," was the theme chosen for the drive, and red, white and blue hats were distributed to organizations within the company as they reached their respective quotas.

Thomas Scanlon, 119 Andover St., was in charge of organizing the 500 solicitors who personally contacted each of their fellow workers in the North Andover and Lawrence plants. In charge of statistics was Philip A. Winters, 42 Enmore St.

The Great Smoky Mountain National Park (Tenn., N.C.) has the largest area of undisturbed wilderness in eastern United States.

Western Electric Employees Give $208,000 to UF

The 1968 Western Electric employees' United Giving Campaign met its goal last week when they raised $208,000 for the United Fund.

Co-chairman of the successful drive was Gerald M. Fannon, 26 Argilla Rd., serving with A.C. Holman, of North Andover.
